Poetry.

A Kiss at the Door.

We were standing in the doorway—
My little wife and I—
The golden sun upon her hair
Fell down so silently,
A small white hand upon my arm,
What could I ask for more
Than the kindly glance of loving eyes,
As she kissed me at the door?

I know she loves with all her heart
The one who stands beside!
And the years have been so joyous
Since first I called her bride!
We've had so much of happiness
Since we met in years before,
But the happiest time of all was
When she kissed me at the door.

Who cares for wealth or land or gold
Or fame, or matchless power?
It does not give the happiness
Of just one little hour
With one who loves me as her life—
She says she "loves me more"—
And I thought she did this morning,
When she kissed me at the door.

At times it seems that all the world,
With all its wealth and gold,
Is very small and poor indeed
Compared with what I hold!
And when the clouds hang grim and dark,
I only want the more
Of "one" who waits my coming step
To kiss me at the door,

If she shall live till age shall scatter
The frost upon her head,
I know she'll love me just the same
As the morning we were wed;
But if the angels call her
And she goes to heaven before,
I shall know her when I meet her,
For she'll kiss me at the door.

Selected Story.

Sabrina Marshall's Wedding.

BY AUGUSTA LARNED.

There is nothing more devoid of romance than the act of patching old trowsers, and yet Sabrina Marshall lent a kind of grace even to that species of woman's work. She was not beautiful, or even pretty, but there was a charm of pure womanliness about her that diffused a kind of fragrance where she sat. It was a homely kitchen with coarse, unpapered walls, and humble furnishings; Deacon White, when he came to inspect Mrs. Marshall's new home, said Sabrina, herself, was furniture enough for even the grandest mansion. And he was right; such a woman as Mrs. Marshall, with a genius for loving and serving a quiet, luminous spirit, responsive to all things good and beautiful, can dispense with the upholsterer's art, and render her house a center of delight.

I said she was not even pretty; but she was something more as the Autumn sunshine flickered through the red boughs of a maple tree by the window and touched her homely dark dress, over which was tied a clean checked apron. There was a spotless band of white linen encirling her throat. She had never fallen into the ways of women who allow the curl to depart forever from their hair as soon as they marry. Hers did not curl, but it waved in thick tresses across her brow, and rippled behind the ear. Sabrina was only beautiful when the happiness that had grown in her eyes broke over her face in a sort of dawn light, and Hiram Marshall had seen the sunrise of a new life there.

It was a picture such as Perry would love to paint—that woman at her homely work, the sunshine flickering through the red maple-leaves upon the tendrils of a fragile vine that grew in the window, and falling on Sabrina's geranium and fuchias.

But there was something else in the picture, a brown, wooden cradle, covered with a cradle-quilt of bright patch work, and within reach of Sabrina's foot. The quilt rounded softly over a sleeping baby, and rose and fell to its breathing as by the touch of the lightest zephyr. Near at hand, on Sabrina's work-table, with its spindle-legs, and quaint, green silk pocket, stood a dainty basket of Indian work, and within was a roll of soft white stuff—mull and nainsook, with a delicate edge of old English lace. Sabrina's eyes strayed often from Hiram's trowsers, in that direction, with a thought of how she would delight in the fairy hems and tucks, and in trimming the tiny waist, and fashioning the little sleeves that could scarce clasp over four fingers of her hand.

She had put by her coarse patching once or twice, just to look at her baby lying asleep, lifting the quilt as softly as one would touch the bud of a rare flower just ready to open, and in still ecstasy had hung above the cradle. He was all hers, that six months' baby, from the rings of his silky hair that clung to the moist temples down to the end of the pink toes, drawn up a little, and curled together in an enchanting baby fashion. The blue-veined lips quivered as she looked at him, and the little mouth made a soft sound as if dreaming of the mother's bosom. The plump little hand and arm, with the pretty crease at the wrist marked with tinty dots and dimples, and the fairy nails and rosy tips were almost too provocative of kisses. And he was all hers; no one could take him from her but God, the giver.

She bent above him sometimes until the happy tears gummed her lashes. He was a largess she would scarcely have dared to ask for, and it seemed to her fancy that one day he had wandered out of the wicker gate of Paradise where the heavenly children play, and losing the little path, with tired feet had nestled at her breast, and gathered all the scattered and broken harmonies of her life into a baby's cooing voice.

It was at such moments that Sabrina prayed almost unconsciously for all childless and lonely women, such as sit in the silence and hear no baby breathing. Such was the glory and the glow of her motherhood, that infinite pity awoke within her for the woman, wherever she might be, who had never clasped her own little child to her bosom, and so silently her thoughts grew in the stillness of the old farm-house, and blossomed into prayers.

When Sabrina had finished patching Hiram's trowsers, it was verging toward nightfall. The rich light of the low sun shed a color like wine over the close-cut harvest fields, and broke along the edges of the tree-trunks in ruddy lines of fire. It glorified the maple tree more and more, and streaked and splashed the coarse kitchen wall with a peculiar splendor as the red leaves threw a deepening blush into the room. Sabrina was about getting Hiram's supper, and she took down from the corner the china tea-cups and saucers, and the quaint tea-pot, thin as an egg-shell, her grandmother Davis had left her. She put on the best table-cloth, too, and the glass dishes as she glanced out of the window and saw the rapturous kind of brightness the maple leaves cast, the thought struck her she would gather a boquet of them to beautify her little table.

This was the aniversary of her wedding-day, and stepping softly about, always raindful of the cradle, no wonder that she recalled the time four years back, when she was only a drudge in the house of her Uncle Davis. Not that she blamed him—the women of that neighborhood were nearly all drudges—and when Hiram Marshall was wasting his early manhood in a morbid discontent, which was fast leading him to ruin.

Old man Marshall, as he was called, was not a pleasant husband and father. His wife feared him, and his boys, with something of the same grain of nature, rebelled against his rule, and fell upon a rock and were bruised. The old man hated priests and pedagogues. He would help support neither church nor school. He was too mean to buy his family shoes. His boys worked until they curse of age, and then, bare and penniless, went out from under the old roof with something like a curse in their hearts. Farmer Marshall was counted one of the richest in the township. He had money in the bank, and shares in the best paying railroads, and yet he lived like a beggar, and denied his wife decent clothing and his children the privileges of a fair education. The revolt of the blood which so often breaks out in the next generation showed itself in Hiram. He was born a straight nature, generous, large-hearted, hating gold, and detesting meanness. He was richer with a shilling in his pocket than many are with their thousands, and the conflict between him and the old man began early, and grew more and more bitter until the end.

So there came days, and she remembered them vividly now, as she was setting the little table, when Sabrina Davis's eyes filled often with tears as they looked at Hiram, and saw the marks of dissipation just deepening into coarseness. It was his love for her, and she knew it, which was sending him down a steep grade to the bad. Betrothed and married so early, as he believed, with his heart forever making a passionate protest against his lot, he could see no way to burgeon out a space in this world's thicket to build a home, and set therein the one who was to him the woman of women. So he grew shy and avoided meeting her, and now and then the terrible whisper came to her ears that Hiram Marshall had been on another spree.

But Sabrina Davis loved as she breathed. Love was a necessity of her being, so braided with her religion and faith that each strand seemed one and the same. She was a year older than Hiram—one of those women where the maternal overleans the rest of the nature, and blends with every other affection. There is a love that invigorates, inspires, nourishes, fills the founts of life, and as medicinal as it is sweet. Such was the love of Sabrina. She lived in those days only to pray for the means of reaching and saving Hiram Marshall through her love.

Now, as she stepped about on her light household errands, another picture from memory rose before her mind's eye. It was a clear, crisp, Autumn day, four years back, when the sky was divinely blue, and the maples flamed along the roadsides, as they did this afternoon. She remembered just how the dahlias and Chrysantheums were blowing there in the old Davis garden as she shut the gate, and at what particular angle of the road she met Hiram. It was where a cluster of water willows bent over a little bubbling spring, and the ground was moist and fragrant with the smell of sweet fern. Hiram had been drinking to drown the memory of home and the wretched life he had led, and though his gait did not betray it, the fact was easily read in his blood-shot eyes and flushed face.

The turn of the road had hidden Sabrina from view, and when he came suddenly upon her, round a little clump of bushes, he faltered and made as if he would turn back without speaking, but she stepped out in front of him, and with a pale face, and tender, appealing eyes, said:

"Hiram, where are you going?"

"To the devil," he answered hoarsely, "and it isn't worth while for you to trouble yourself about such a one as I am. Let me go, Sabrina. Try to think of me as dead and buried." His voice shook as he pulled his hat more over his eyes.

"I shall never let you go," said Sabrina in clear, sweet, penetrating tones, that thrilled him through and through. "I would follow you to save you however low you might fall, but, as it is, you have gone only a step aside. Come back, Hiram, come back to me. God could find you in the darkest places; he would let my love find you, too." She held out her two hands to him in a passion of pleading, and he put his out, and reached for them almost as if he had been blind, and took hold of them, and steadied himself as a drowning man might.

"Do you believe it, Sabrina?" faltered he, 'do you believe I could ever get to feel like a man again, and respect myself and stand upon my feet, and look other men in the face?"

"I know you could, Hiram," and her voice rang out from the great depth of her conviction and her faith.

He grasped her hands unconsciously until they ached; he probed her eyes with his own, seeking for the least token of faltering but they were clear and steady, yet flowed with divine sympathy that only the highest love ever reveals.

"Sabrina," said he, with a look and accent as if the cramped manliness of his nature were straightening itself to the full stature of a strong, self-controlled human being, "Sabrina, there have been moments when I was at the worst, even, that I believed your love could save me."

"It shall save you, Hiram.'

"But to do me any good it must never leave me." he returned sadly, with the old distress flowing back upon him. "I can't be left to myself, Sabrina. I am like a baby; unless I am watched I shall creep into the fire—hell fire."

"Poor Hiram," and her voice was a throb of exquisite pity; "loneliness has almost killed you; you have hurt yourself like a wild bird that beats its wings against the bars of its iron cage until they bleed; you have needed some hand to touch, some heart to lean on, and you would not come even to me. Hiram, if you will let me stay with you I will never leave you any more."

He dropped her hands, and cast his eyes upon the ground, while the light faded visibly from his face.

"I should be a brute, Sabrina, to ask you to marry me now."

"You need not ask me, dear. Let us go to-day—this very hour—to the minister, and let him make us one."

"Would you marry me this moment, as I am?" and the words were more an inarticulate cry of joy than anything coherent. It seemed as though the man's soul had sprung up erect, and broken the withes that bound it, in a single moment of time.

"I would," answered Sabrina; and he put his arms about her, and held her in a close embrace, as if he would never let her go.

"Come," said Sabrina at last, "it is not necessary that you and I should wait for wedding finery. Are we not clothed in the glory of our love? I will go to my wedding in this calico dress and sun-bonnet, and will take you—"

"As I came from the tavern," added Hiram, but there did not seem to be any shame or humiliation in his tones.

They held each other by the hand and walked on joyfully toward the minister's house to perform a simple and yet almost sublime act of faith. They were like two children, who, finding themselves on the brink of a black and yawning precipice, and growing dizzy from looking into it, turn back into grassy meadows, pied with daisies—innocent, pure, and sweet under God's sky. They took no thought of the morrow, what they should eat, nor wherewithal they should be clothed. The great, sweet present folded them in its holy embrace. They were living an idyl as they walked in the September air, so delicately fresh, and scented with the odors from ripening fruits and changing foliage, and beside the way, where asters grew tangled in white and purple mazes, and the golden-rod shone, and the wild vines gathered a glory of rich leaves, crimson and gold, ruby and maroon. The distant rim of the hills folded patches of mist in their hollows; the crickets chirped in the stubble; the birds sang with sweet but short snatches, as if learning anew after the August silence; the trees flung their shadows over them like a visible benediction, and the great, unspeakable, infinite love of God stooped nearer and gathered them into his bosom, where ecstatic silence will not pardon the lowest whisper for fear of dashing down one drop of the cup of bliss.

This was Sabrina's wedding, and when the old minister had made them one, saying, "What God hath joined let not man put asunder," they went out together, and Hiram let her lead him where she would, as if ready to follow her to the world's end. It was almost night-fall when they met farmer Davis, jogging along in his tow frock, on his way home to supper. He was a hard-fisted, weather-beaten old man, but if anybody knew how to probe the tender spot under his rather rough rind, it was Sabrina. "Uncle," said she, stopping him in the road, as he stared at the two in a sort of dumb amazement, and her words were to the last degree simple and undramatic: "Uncle, Hiram Marshall and I have been getting married this afternoon. You have always been kind to me. Will you let me take Hiram home for a few days until we can make some plans?"

The old man rubbed his frock sleeve across his eyes as if not quite sure he saw or heard straight. "Married," repeated he; "now this beats all," and then he paused, and said at length; "Sabrina, I thought you was the last woman to get yourself into a scrape. I'd have bet on your judgment any time. But women aire slippery creeters, the best on 'em. I knew Hiram used to come shinin' round you, and then he got wild, and I thought you'd had the good sense to give up all notion of him. But now the knot is tied, and, Hiram, I will say you have got the likeliest woman in the country, and if you don't keep stiddy and go to work like a man, you're a bigger loafer then I think you aire. This little gal is jest like my own." He put his big, brown hand on her shoulder almost tenderly, and his rough voice shook a little. "I raised her, and I've always done by her the best I could, and I won't have her hectored. I guess anybody that tries it will find she's got friends that will stand up for her through thick and thin."

Sabrina looked up into Hiram's face with an inexplicable smile, and the old man went on melting and breaking down more and more. "Take him home!" said he, "of course you can, and so long as he is good to you, and behaves himself, nobody shall be more welcome."

So Sabrina took her husband home to her uncle's house, and when the news of her marriage got abroad people in general shook their heads and pitied her. She had thrown herself away; she had married in haste to repent at leisure. But old Deacon White knew better. "Pshaw!" said he, "Hiram Marshall will go straight as a line, for a woman like Sabrina can love a man right into heaven." And so it proved. She reconciled the world to Hiram's soul with love.

Neither did the newly married pair starve, as some kind friends predicted they would. Sabrina had inherited a few things from her grandmother Davis, enough to furnish two humble rooms, and Hiram rented a few acres on shares, and developed an energy before undreamed of. The next year his operations grew, naturally, faithfully, and now, at the end of four harvest seasons, they were in the possession of comfort, if not abundance. From the day Hiram found his good angel, and was turned back in the way, he had kept to the straight path; and that perfect love which casteth out fear that filled Sabrina's bosom, had known no wavering or shadow of turning, had never doubted or distrusted, or let a shadow of a suspicion darken her husband's life.

The memories of her wedding-day were scarcely lived through when, the pretty supper-table completed, and the feathery biscuits shedding a perfume through the place, the baby awoke in an infantile mood of still, celestial brightness. He smiled on his mother's face, but was not anxious to be taken up; but she snatched him to her bosom, as if fearful he would listen too long to the singing of the angels, and be weaned away from her.

Hiram was coming through the gate, and with him an old decrepit man, who shook with palsy. It was father Marshall, as Sabrina called him. Little by little, she had won over the father and son to a reconciliation, stealing the bitterness from the gall, and the sting from the thorn. Nobody had ever been able to induce the stubborn, hard old man to enter a church, or receive the visit of a minister; but Sabrina's love conquered, not in the name of religion, but through its power. Now, as she saw the old man coming to keep her wedding feast, she took her boy in her arms and went out to meet him, and stood under the bright maple-tree; delicate rosy clouds floated over the old farm-house, the pale, crescent moon hung in the radiant west. Hiram put his strong arm about his wife; the old, shaking man bent and kissed the infant, and the gentleness of the act, perhaps, expressed the redemption of that stern nature; and out of the still evening heavens it seemed that blessed spirits were looking upon that true home—that picture of wedded love and maternal joy—watching the peace and trust, beauty and order, and reconciliation that flow from a great love, and whispering, It is good.

The Ku-Klux Reign of Terror.—Synopsis of a portion of the Testimony taken by the Congressional Investigating Committee.

No. I.

The testimony taken by the Select Committee of Congress, appointed at the last session to investigate into alleged Ku-Klux outrages in the Southern States, at last enables us to get a comprehensive view of the operations of that mysterious organization known as the Ku-Klux Klan—an organization that has been poohpoohed by Northern Democratic politicians as a mere figment of the imagination, but which, under the light of the searching investigation conducted by the Committee, has disclosed itself as one of the most monstrous growth to which civilized society ever gave birth. Indeed, it may almost be said to stand without a parallel in history—a huge, mishapen reptile spawned from the foul decay of slavery and rebellion. It is proposed in this and the following papers to present such a brief abstract, as space will permit, of some of the testimony, which amounts in all to several thousand pages, thus permitting the reader to form his own opinion from facts, of which no mere general statement, however strong, could convey anything like an adequate conception. These official documents, comprising the sworn statements of men of the highest character and social station, and of all shades of political opinion, could not fail to convince the most skeptical reader that the Ku Klux organization is, indeed, no myth, but one of the most horrible realities in the history of human passion and crime. It is only possible to give the briefest abstract of the testimony, but this will be amply sufficient to show the utterly diabolical character of the order and the disloyal animus of its acts. We shall withhold, in some instances, the names of the witnesses, for reasons which the reader can readily appreciate in the light which the testimony throws upon the fearful hazard incurred by those persons who, in the Ku-Klux infested districts, make themselves obnoxious to these midnight prowlers. We begin with the State of

MISSISSIPPI.

Among the most interesting and explicit of the testimony taken was that of Colonel A. P. Huggins, of Aberdeen, Monroe county, United States Assessor of Internal Revenue at the point, and County Superintendent of Schools under the State government. In the latter office, to which he was appointed in 1870, he was President of the County Board of School Directors, whose duty it was to submit to the Board of Spervisors an estimate of the amount of taxes needed for school purposes, the latter board being charged with the duty of making the assessment. The estimate submitted by the Board of Directors was less by nearly one-third than the amount of tax allowed by law, but the Ku-Klux of the county notified the Board of Supervisors not to make the assessment, and it was not done. The law of the State was thus successfully set at defiance, and the teachers of the county were unable to get their pay for services rendered. In this county (Monroe) the Ku-Klux reigned supreme for many months, large bands of them, decked in their frightful regalia, riding through the county by night, and whipping, murdering, and burning at will. Here are some of the special cases testified to by Col. Huggins.

In August, 1870, one Saunders Flint (colored) and two sons, having had a quarrel with three white men, had been committed to jail to await their trial for assault and battery. One ntght during the month mentioned the jail was broken open and they were taken out by a gang of fifty disguised men (Ku-Klux). The father by some means escaped, but both the sons were killed. Three men were arrested as members of this gang, but in January last their cases were dismissed, and they were set at liberty. This proof that there was no danger from the courts was the signal for a general outbreak of Ku-Klux violence, and outrages succeeded each other with frightful rapidity.

February 1st.—Alfred Whitfield (colored) was whipped till he promised to vote the Democratic ticket. Witness saw his back, which was "badly pounded up."

February 3d.—An old colored man, name forgotten, was beaten till he made the same promise.

February 10th.—Jack Dupree, (colored,) president of a Republican club, and living near Ross' Mill, was dragged from his bed by a gang of Ku-Klux, taken five miles into the woods, and beaten till he was near dead. The fiends in human form then cut him open "from throat to straddle" and took out his heart and intestines. This was attested by Joseph Davis, a member of the gang, who turned State's evidence at Oxford, and who was present on the occasion in question. Dupree was charged with no crime; but it is said he "was a noisy Republican and would speak his mind." The penalty on freedom of speech in this part of Mississippi seems to be heavier than that on murder.

March 9th—Witness was lodging at the house of one Geo. R. Ross. He was taken out by a gang of 120 masked and mounted men in white robes, and, on refusing to promise that he would leave the State, was beaten till he fainted, receiving seventy-five lashes with a stirrup strap. The particulars of this case have heretofore been made public through the press. Witness was threatened with certain death should

THE GREAT CHICAGO FIRE.

The greatest fire of the century, an account of which we give elsewhere, occurred in the City of Chicago during the fore part of last week. The destruction of property and the consequent suffering of the suddenly made houseless and homeless, are without a parallel in history. When we read the accounts of how that which required years of time and labor and millions of money to build was swept away in as many minutes: how men who were living in luxury and wealth in the morning became, by the action of the "fire fiend," beggars before night, we could not repress a feeling of horror, aye and of sorrow, and were made to realize "how uncertain is property and riches." Just think of it. On the eventful Sunday morning of October 8th Chicago was the fairest the most audacious City on the continent—incomparable in her magic industry, her enterprize and her growth; by the following Tuesday, in less than two days time all this grandeur, and beauty and wealth was swept away by the demon of flame, making that which was incomparable in prosperity unapproachable in calamity!

Over 12,000 houses have been destroyed, and an area of five square miles—3000 acres—destroyed and covered with ruins. The suffering of the stricken City has been intense. The Government promptly offered aid and ordered rations by the hundred thousand to be issued and tents for shelter from all points available to be sent on at once. Help in the shape of food, clothing and money has been generously subscribed and sent from all parts of the nation from Maine to California. Even Canada and the merchants and bankers of great Britian are making their free will offerings of gold and goods.

Although the whole business portion of Chicago, its hotels, public buildings, banks and palatial structures have been swept out of existence, we see that the work of rebuilding has already commenced and from the well known and wonderful recuperative power of the Western people we have no doubt but very soon larger and more imposing edifices will rise, Phœnix like, from the ashes of those destroyed. Already, from the smouldering embers, strength is being gathered for a renewed career of prosperous activity.

THE ELECTIONS.

The State Elections just held in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa have all resulted in increased majorities for the grand old Republican Party. As the two former States elect United States Senators, the Democrats concentrated their special efforts on the Legislative ticket, but of no avail. In Pennsylvania the Republican ticket is elected by a majority of over 18,000. and the Legislature has a Republican majority of three in the State and twenty eight in the House. Good for the "Old Keystone."

In Ohio the Republican State ticket has a majority of about 20,000, and the Legislature will stand: Senate—Republicans, 18; Democrats, 18. House—13 Republican majority. The Lieutenant Governor has the casting vote in the Senate which will give the Republicans the control.

Iowa has likewise done nobly, carrying her State ticket by a very large majority, and her Legislature, as heretofore, is radically right. The Republicans there not only triumphed over their opponents, but really annihilated them.

Thus it will be seen that we came out of the October contest with the Republican colors flying in victory and the Democratic hosts trailed in defeat. The vote may be regarded as a vote of confidence in the Republican Party, and an utter condemnation of the political thimble rigging of the Democracy. The result settles the contest for 1872.

The Tri-enniel Convention of the Episcopal Church is now in session in Baltimore. The largest attendance of clerical and lay deputies and Bishops that ever assembled on a similar occasion is present. Two English Bishops, two Deans, and two other English clergymen are in attendance as visitors.

Gen. M. COOK, the Democratic candidate for Governor in Ohio, got sick before the election. He has been a good deal sicker since.

THE LETTER TO JUDGE BOND—THE DEMOCRACY CONFESSES.

The leading Democrats of North Carolina are frightened. When the Ku Klux trials began at Raleigh, a large number of them went up to the capital, among them several of the most prominent lawyers in the party, to defend the prisoners, affecting to believe the charges against the organization to be "a radical slander" and that its existence would be disproved. But the results of the trials astonished, nay alarmed them, and ten of the most noted Democrats of the State addressed Judge BOND the following important letter. They ask him to postpone further trials, promising that the band of assassins shall be dissolved and that their acts of dis bolism, murder and arson shall cease. It will be seen that the Judge refuses to comply with their modest request, and declares that the trials shall go on.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 30, 1871.

SIR:—We have the honor in the interest of the peace of the people of North Carolina to address you this note.

The fact that a secret, unlawful organization called the Ku Klux, or Invisible Empire, exists in certain parts of the State has been manifested in the recent trials before the court over which you preside. We condemn, without reservation, all such organizations. We denounce them as dangerous to good Government, and we regard it as the eminent duty of all the good citizens to suppress them. No right-minded men in North Carolina can palliate or deny the crimes committed by these organizations, but we think if the further prosecution of the persons charged with these offences was continued until the November term, it would enable us to enlist all law loving citizens of the State to make an energetic and effectual effort for the restoration of good order. We assure you that before the November term of the Circuit Court we believe that this unlawful organization will be effectually suppressed.

In presenting these considerations to your Honor we believe that it is our duty and purpose to exert all the influence we possess, and use all the means in our power to absolutely suppress this organization, and to secure a lasting and permanent peace to the State. The laws of the country must and shall be vindicated. We are satisfied and give the assurance that the people of North Carolina will unite in arresting and forever obliterating an evil which brings nothing but calamity to the State. In the name of a list of honorable people, and by all the considerations which appeal to good men, we solemnly protest that these violations of law and public justice must and shall cease. We have the honor to be, &c., yours, &c.,

Thomas Bragg,	William M. Shipp,
George V. Strong,	M. W. Ransom,
Daniel G. Fowle,	Will. H. Battle,
Jas. B. Batchelor,	R. H. Battle, Jr.
B. F. Moore,	D. M. Barringer.

REPLY OF JUDGE BOND.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 2, 1871.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to acknowledge at the hands of his Excellency, Governor Caldwell, the receipt of your letter asking me to postpone the trial of the cases now pending in the Circuit Court under the enforcement act. I have given your letter the long and careful consideration to which your eminent position in North Carolina and the importance of the subject to which it relates entitle it; but I am unable to comply with your request. These cases are very numerous, and, if not tried now, will at our next term so encumber the docket as to obstruct all civil business. The city is full of witnesses summoned from long distances who have remained here for several weeks at large cost, and it would be a great hardship to make them return here again, and it would be unjust for us to send them home unless I knew they could return with the same feeling of personal security that I myself should have on my own return home. This I do not know, and though you give me assurances that before the next term of the Circuit Court "the Invisible Empire" shall be effectually suppressed, it is not suppressed now, and I feel that the enforcement of the law should continue. I have come to this conclusion with less reluctance because I am sure gentlemen who are so sincere in their desire to relieve North Carolina of this disgraceful and infamous association will not remit their labors to suppress it, as they assure me they have the power to do, because the court sits a week or two longer to assist them in their undertaking. I am glad to hear from you that the recent trials have manifested that this secret unlawful organization exists in some parts of North Carolina. It cannot but aid you in your effort to suppress it, to point out by these trials to you who are the guilty persons who compose it. I hope, gentlemen, you will agree with me that it is best to do so.

With great respect I beg to remain yours, very respectfully,

HUGH L. BOND,
Judge U. S. Circuit Court.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT.

Some nine or ten counties in Western South Carolina have long been the scenes of violent and brutal action of the KuKlux. Due notice has been heretofore given that martial law would be proclaimed unless these outragious acts ceased. The KuKlux assassins paid no attention to the warning. Now the President has issued an official proclamation commanding that these unlawful combinations and conspiracies disperse within five days. The Government has acted full as soon as it was ready to enforce its policy. The officers of the law are in possession of the fullest information, and the Department of Justice, supported by the Army is prepared to strike effectively at the South Carolina leaders of the "Invisible Empire."

It does seem that the scourge of fire has fallen upon some of the North Western States. Following the overwhelming disaster at Chicago comes the news of conflagrations in Michigan and Wisconsin more extensive, and in their destruction of life more appalling even than that which devasted the prairia metropolis. We give a synopsis elsewhere.

Where is the Democratic rooster? Ex.

On the evening of the elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa he took such a severe cold, so affecting his voice that nary crow can be heard from him now. Poor distressed bird.

Texas has gone Democratic just as we expected and predicted.

Gov. Brown, of Missouri, has issued a proclamation, calling out the militia in Duklin and Stoddart Counties for the suppression of the Kuklux.

THE GREAT FIRES OF ANCIENT AND MODERN TIMES

We do not care to occupy space in giving an account of the burning of ancient Troy and Carthage and Rome. The great fire in London, Sept., 2 1666, destroyed 13,200 dwellings and 89 churches. About 400 Streets were burned down. The extent of the ravages covered 436 acres, and the value of the property was estimated at $50,000,000.

The burning of Moscow was perhaps more remarkable in its character and ultimate effect than any other conflagration recorded. It changed at one stroke the fortunes of Napoleon, and delivered Russia from the invader. Napoleon had advanced with successive victories 2,000 miles from his capital, and at length entered the Russian capital with nearly 200,000 men, when the city was fired. The French soldiers shot the incendiaries, bayonetted them, tossed them into the flames, but still the gangs plied their work. The fire continued with unabated fury for three days, until nothing was left of Moscow save the remembrance of its former grandeur.

The fire in Liverpool in 1842, the great fires that have taken place within the last 20 years in London, and the dreadful scenes last April in Paris may be regarded as among the principal conflagrations that have occured in Europe during this century.

The conflagrations of American cities have so far not equalled in extent the great European burnings, but still have entailed vast losses and created great suffering. The most fearful fire that ever devastated New York City broke out on the night of the 16th of December, 1835, in the lower wards. The flames regard fiercely for three days, laying waste the business part of the city, and consuming 648 houses and store with $18,000,000 worth of property, among which were the marble Exchange in Wall-st., hitherto deemed fire-proof, and the South Dutch Church, in Garden-st. Some buildings were finally blown up by gunpowder, and the work of ruin was thus arrested.

Four years later 46 buildings were burned entailing a loss of $10,000,000. In 1845 a fire broke out in New-st., then extended to Broad-st., where a building in which saltpeter or other explosive material was stored, blew up, carrying six or seven buildings with it, and shaking the whole city like an earthquake. After raging all day the flames were extinguished about midnight. In a section nearly bounded by Broadway. South William-st., Exchange-place, and Beaver-st., 268 buildings had been destroyed, causing a loss of about $6,000,000.

In other parts of the State of New York fires of great magnitude have occurred. In August, 1849, 24 acres were burned over in Albany, and 600 buildings with a number of steamboats were destroyed. The fire of April 10, 1845, consumed 200 houses in Brooklyn, causing a total loss of $8000,000. In Troy a fire in 1820, destroyed the business part of the city. Another fire (Aug. 15, 1854,) destroyed 300 buildings; and again on May 10, 1862, property valued at $3,000,000 was burned, including 671 buildings, among which were manly public edifices.

San Francisco has been in special degree scourged by fire. The first great fire was on Dec, 24, 1849, and the estimated loss was $1,000,000; the next was on May 4, 1850, loss $2,000,000; the third on June 14, of the same year, loss $3,000,000; the fourth on May 2, 1851, loss $7,000.000; the fifth on June 22, 1851, loss $2,000,000—making a total of $16,000,000 lost by fire within 18 months by a city whose population did not then exceed one-tenth of the present population of Chicago.

The City of Washington, which was burnt down by the British during the war of 1812-14, was visited, in 1836, with a fire which reduced to ruins the General Post Office and Patent-Office, and consumed 10,000 valuable models and drawings.

Pittsburgh was the scene of conflagration on April 10, 1845, which destroyed 1,000 buildings, and entailed a loss of $6,000,000.

In Philadelphia the fire of July 9, 1850, destroyed 400 buildings.

St. Louis endured a similar calamity in July, 1849, leveling 418 buildings and destroying 15 steamboats. The total loss was over $6,000,000.

In the fire at Portland, Maine, July 5, 1866, 1,600 buildings were reduced to ruins. The loss was $,9000,000. The value of the property insured did not exceed $4,000,000.

The British Province have had some extensive fires in their cities. At Quebec, 1,500 houses were burned, and a vast amount of property was consumed on the 28th of May, 1845. One month afterward 1,300 buildings were destroyed in the same city, in all amounting to two-thirds of the whole city. In June, 1846, the whole City of St. John's Newfoundland, was destroyed by fire, and 6,00 people were rendered houseless.

The Elizabeth City North Carolinian seems to be much pleased because "our excellent and most worthy townsman, Hon. George W. Brooks" has discovered the fact that there are KuKlux. That paper sustained Judge Brooks in 1870, when he fonnd no KuKlux, and it sustains him in 1871, when he finds KuKlux The Carolinian is not posted. The writer of this is and has been a much better friend to the Carolinian and its friends than Judge Brooks has been or ever will be. We do not believe in puffing a public man because he happens to live in one's own town.—Washington Chroniele.

From the above we see that our Washington cotemporary is neither a regular nor a careful reader of the NORTH CAROLINIAN. Whatever short coming it may have, indiscriminate abuse or fulsom eulogy of public men, or any man can never be laid to its charge. Because we did not join in the tirade against Judge BROOKS in 1870 is no reason that we endorsed his action at that time. He knows and the careful readers of our paper know that we did not. But we saw no good end to be gained by publicly abusing him. Indeed at that time the entire Democratic press of the State were attacking our Judges from the Supreme Court down. We reprobated the conduct of the Democratic editors as calculated to impair the respect due to the authority of our Courts and to injure the influence of the administrators of the law. It would hardly have been consistent, the first time the action of a Judge didn't quite suit us, to turn round and do the very thing we condemned in others.

A word further. Personal friendship cannot sway us from our duty as a public journalist. The allusion is indelicate—gratuitous. The new editor of the Chronicle has known us as a member of the craft for some time, and he ought to have found out before this that we cannot be turned aside by any such influence as he imputes to us. And when, for a purpose, we take occasion to indulge in badinage at the expense of the KuKlux sympathizing Democracy he ought to be smart enough to "see the point," instead of going out of his way to wrap us in a manner as uncalled for as it is unkind.

Godey's Lady's Book for November is already out. It is the lady's Magazine of the age. Among its embellishments are a fine steel plate. Colored Fashion-plate, containing six figures. Colored plate of Winter Hoods. A Bad Day's Sport. Flowers and Flower Basket, twenty four engravings. An extra sheet of Fashions and Lingerie, fifty-four engraving. A plate of Walking Dresses. Suburban Residence, with plan. Besides a variety of usefui designns in the Work Department.

The literary matter is, as usual, interesting and instructive. Now is the time to get up clubs. We are prepared to club it with our paper. For $4,25 we will furnish our paper and Godey's Lady's Book.

A Strange Story.

To the Editor of the North Carolian:

The following statement was given me while on my trip to this place by the gentleman who signs his name; it is a strange story indeed; but the gentleman, who told me of it, and wrote out the account seemed inteligent and truthful, and also appeared firmly and solemnly impressed with the truth of the incidents. I offer it to you, and trust you will publish it as a matter of courtesy. I know not how to believe it, but the man who told the story seemed so earnest and upright about the matter, that I felt constrained to receive his testimony and present it to you for publication.

Respectfully,
WM. H. LYON.

About three years since a man appeared to me, John Scott, of Hertford Co., N. C., by the name of Nathan Beale, who was certainly killed at the seven day's fight around Richmond! I saw him about three days after he was killed, saw him buried, and saw the wound, which was by a musket ball, in the left side, the ball passing through! This I swear as an absolute fact; and now I tell what has since appeared to me and several others, and to which I will also take oath. About three years since at Franklin Depot, on the Sea-Board Road, I, John Scott, W. E. Rauls, S. E. Beale, cousin to deceased, and A. M. Gardiner, of Southampton Co. Va., did then and there see and I spoke to the same Nathan Beale, and when we come to him I said, "Is this not Nathan Beale?" and he replied, "It is," I said "where have you been?" he answered, "I am dead," and then I replied, "Where are you going? he said, "That is for me to know." These were the words spoken. He walked off I have not seen him since. This can be sworn to by all the above men. Now I leave to the world and spiritualists to answer what was, what is, and what does it mean? Strange as this story may appear to those who may read, yet I am willing and so are the others, to take oath to the above facts, before any honorable magistrate. I hereby sign my name, and acknowledge myself as a truthful, believing and sincere man, with no disposition to deceive or impose upon a reading public. The deceased and myselfe were boys together; and I now conclude by solemnly swearing to the above facts.

Marriages and Deaths in Currituck.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

As items of local interest I send you the following notices of marriages and deaths in this county. Died on the 27th of Sept., on the Narrow Shore, Thos. The City of Chicago in Ashes.

NOT A BANK, HOTEL, EXPRESS OFFICE, NEWSPAPER OR RAILWAY DEPOT LEFT.

OVER $300,000,000 IN PROPERTY GONE.

Over One Hundred Thousand People without Homes or Shelter.

MILLIONAIRES RENDERED PENNILESS IN A DAY.

On the evening of the 8th, the most terrible conflagration that ever occured in the United States broke out in Chicago, laying the business portion of the City in ashes. Late on Sunday evening a boy went into a stable on Dekoven-st., near the river, on the West Side, to milk a cow, carrying with him a kerosene lamp. This was kicked over by the cow, and the burning fluid scattered among the straw. This was the beginning of the great fire, A single fire-extinguisher on the ground, or active work by the police in tearing down one or two shanties, would have prevented the spreading of the flames; but the engines were waited for and when they arrived it was too late. From this insignificant source sprang this terrible calamity. This portion of the city was built up almost entirely of wooden buildings, closely packed together, tenanted by carpenters, cabinet-makers, coopers, varnish manufacturers, interspersed with lumber yards and stores of other equally inflammable materials. The wind was blowing a terrible gale and the devouring element spread so rapidly that all attempts to stay its ravages proved fruitless.

The fire continued to burn up to the morning of the 10th sweeping everything before it. It soon reached the part of the city upon which the greater portion of the fine business blocks were situated, all of which are destroyed. The Court House, which was 20 years building was swept away in 30 minutes. The Sherman House, opposite the Court House, the new Pacific Hotel, which was soon to be opened, and said to be the largest in the world; and, indeed, every hotel in the city is swallowed up in the sea of fire. When the fire reached State-st., toward the Lake, an attempt was made to stay its progress by blowing up the buildiugs in the vicinity of Field, Leiters & Co.'s magnificent dry goods establishment, but this only seemed to add to the fury of the flames. From State-st. the fire advanced with unabated fury to the North Division, and scarcely a vestige of the 8,000 buildings on that side of the river is left. Taking a south-easterly direction, the fire swept through Madison-ave. and Monroe-st., extending a distance of about one mile and a quarter, devouring in its advance The Tribune building, Crosby's Opera-House, McVickers Theater, and hundreds of the finest business houses in the city. West of the Court-House, embracing Lasalle, Wells, and South Water-sts., upon which a very large portion of the business was concentrated everything is swept clean. The space burnt over covers an area of more than five square miles, while the value of the property destroyed is simply to be conjectured, some placing it at $300,000,000, and others even more than this. Brick blocks were consumed as if by magic. It seemed that no sooner had the flames struck a wall than it went directly through, and a very few minutes sufficed to destroy the most elaborately built structure. The walls melted, and the very bricks were consumed The wooden pavements even took fire, making a continuous sheet of flame two miles long by a mile wide. No human being could possibly survive many mintes. Block after block fell, and the red-hot coal shot higher and higher, and spread farther and farther, until the north side of Lake-st. was a vast sheet of flame from the river to the lake. At one time so hemmed were the people that it was expected thousands must perish.

It is fearful to think of the loss of life. It is conjectured, and with good cause, that nearly 500 persons have burned to death.

MORE DREADFUL FIRES IN THE WEST.

TOWNS DESTROYED AND LIVES LOST

On the 10th and 11th inst. we learn that portion of the State of Michigan east of Saginaw Bay and north of a point 40 miles above Port Huron has been completely swept by fire. A number of persons perished. The flourishing villages of Forestville, White Rock, Elm Creek, Sand Beach and Huron City are entirely destroyed, Rock Falls and Port Hope are partially destroyed. At all these towns there were large stores, many of which were filled with Winter stocks, extensive saw-mills, shingle-mills, and docks covered with lumber, all of which have been swept away. It is said there is but one dock left on the shore abaut Foaestville. All the telegraph offices along the shore have been destroyed, but communication will be restored as soon as the damage done to the lines can be repaired. Five children are known to have perished near Rock Falls. R. B. Hubbard at Huron City shot all his fine horses and cattle to prevent their perishing by fire. He loses very heavily having had a large store, mills, docks, &c.

A gentleman, writing from Kalamazoo in the 12th. says:

We have news that Wayland, Mattewan, Vicksburg and Holland are burning—the whole country seems to be in flames. Around Kalamazoo there are men engaged in fighting fires. The air is filled with smoke, and a perfect gale is blowing. The leaves lie in large heaps. The village authorities have taken all precautions in their power to prevent the outbreak of a conflagration here, have prohibited the burning of leaves, etc. A dispatch just received, says that Holland is almost entirely destroyed and 3,000 people are homeless. Fires are burning in Thre Oaks, on the Michigan Central Railroad, and Ligonir on the Michigan Southern and Lake Shore Railroad.

A fire broke out in the town of Manistee, Mich., at 10 o'clock on Sunday night, and raged until 5 on Monday morning, destroying 206 buildings, six large mills, and a vessel lying at the dock. Half of the entire town is burned. The loss is estimated at $1,300,000.

Seventy-five persons were burned to death at Little Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and the suffering throught the night terrible. With the exception of the destruction of property, the calamity is almost as oppalling as the burning of Chicago.

A fire broke out in the Belgian settlement of Brussels, in Door County, Wisconsin, destroying 180 houses—all the place contained, excepting five. Nine persons are missing. It is supposed they perished in the flames. The inhabitants lost everything.

Between New Hlbany and Lafayette, Ind., miles upon miles of fences, hay, grain in stack, corn in the fields, houses barns and cattle-pens have been burned.

Janesville, Wis., October 15.—Gov. Fairchild telegraphs that the appalling calamity has not been exaggerated. Over three thousand men women and children are now destitute. The loss of life has been very great. Not less than five hundred persons have been burned at Pishtega and vicinity, and three hundred on the Eastern shore. Scores of men, women and children are now in temporary hospitals burned and maimed.

Milwaukee, October, 16.—Later accounts confirm the previous disastrous reports. The loss of life in the neighborhood of Peshtego will reach twelve hundred. Fifteen per cent. of those injured will die. The only escape was the water, where the maddened cattle and horses drowned many. The population of Peshtego was two thousand, one third of whom perished.

Europe.

OCTOBER 10.—The Newcastle is to be settled by arbitration. An immense "Home Rule" demonstration has taken place in Drogheda, Ireland. The elections for Councils-General passed off quietly in France.

OCTOBER 11.—The British Government has determind to release no more Feniahs. The ratification of the Customs Treaty between France and Germany is considered certain. The political excitement is increasing in Madrid. A violent earthquake shock has occurred in Constantinople.

OCTOBER 12.—A treaty guaranteeing trade-marks will shortly be concluded between Great Britain, Germany, and the United States. The German Parliament will be opened by the Emperor in person. The funeral of M. Lambrecht, late Minister of the Interior, was celebrated in Paris yesterdey. Soveral members of the International Society have been arrested in Pesth, Spain contemplats sending troops to Morocco.

OCTOBER 13.—An enthusiastic meeting in aid of the sufferers was held in London yesterday. It is reported in London that the Germans have agreed to withdraw their army from France. The majority of the members of the new French General Conncils favor the Administration. The trial of ex-Consul Victor Place is now in progress in Paris.

OCTOBER 14.—The Newcastle strike now appears as far from settment as ever, and is accompanied with riotous domonstrations. Several persons have been injured by an accident on a Scotch railway.

OCTOBER 16.—The French elections have resulted in favor of the Moderates and Liberal Conservatives. The signing of the new Treaty with Germany is officially announced.

After circumnavigating the globe and visiting the most famous capitals of the world, the Hon. Wm. H. Seward has arrived at home again. He has been received as an honored guest by the representatives of the supreme governments of Japan and China, he partook of the hospitalities of the Governor General of India, and of the oriental lavishness of the Khedive and the Sultan, he dined with the would-be Washington of the French republic and now, full of honors and years, he has come home to spend his declining years in peace and at rest. His journey was an almost unparalleled ovation to a man, who traveled as a simple private gentleman, without title or office; and the old Statesman in his retreat at Auburn, will have many flattering and delightful recollections with which to occupy himself.

MESSRS. WALTER SCOTT & Co.
Gen'l Ag'ts Craftsmen's Life Assurance Co.
Gentlemen:

In answer to your enquiry as to whether James Nichols dec'd, late of Elizabeth City, was insured by the Craftsmen's Life Assurance Company of New York, I desire to state that the life of Mr. Nichols' was insured by the said company, for Three Thousand Dollars;—which amount has been promptly paid by the said company.

Very Respectfully,
John A. Raper.

Elizabeth City, N. C. Sept. 14th 1871
EDITOR OF INSURANCE MONITOR,
176 Broadway, New York:
Dear Sir,

Will you be kind enough to answer the following questions:

Is the Craftsmen's Life Assurance Company of New York a company that you can safely recommend to those wishing insurance?

Are its chief officers capable business men and are they men of high standing?

Are its directors men of capital?

From your position as editor of a leading insurance journal of this country I know of no one upon whom I could call to be more correctly informed about this matter than yourself. I would therefore be obliged to you for a full and frank answer to the above questions.

Very Respectfully
Wm. F. Martin.

FOUTZ'S
CELEBRATED
Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine, round and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

To the Farmers and Planters of Maryland and the South generally.

HORNER'S MARYLAND SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

WE COURT THE CHEMIST'S INQUIRY.

After 23 years' experience in the Fertilizing business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of this Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and everyway worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "Maryland" is a rejuvinator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients with a very liberal percentage of Potash in the residuum. There is no adulterator or inferior article used—every particle of the Phosphate being of essential benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay. For cotton, wheat, corn, and as a general stimulant and aliment for worn and impoverished land, there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphate than any other fertilizer in the market. Price $50 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery. JOSHUA HORNER, Jr. Manufacturer and General Commission Merchant, Office and Warehouse, 54 South Gay st. General Warehouse, corner Chew and Stirling sts., Baltimore, Md.

Bone Dust $45, Bone Meal $50, Dissolved Bone $47,

our own manufacture, in new bags; Eastern and Western Bone Dust $35, Peruvian Guano delivered from Peruvian Government Warehouse at lowest rates. No charge for delivery.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

See new advertisements in Dauchey's column.
Ocean House at Portsmouth.
Alex Moore of Boston advertises new Book.

Local and Personal.

☞ Hon. C. L. Conn has returned, and will remain at home for some time.

☞ The annual Conference of the African M. E. Zion Church is now in session at this place.

☞ As we go to press on Wednesday evenings, advertisers to insure the insertion of their favors, should hand them in not later than Tuesday mornings.

☞ The Commissioners of Dare County have decided to build a Jail. Proposals will be received until the first of November.

☞ Our Merchants are receiving their Fall and Winter Stock of Goods. On Road Street, from Maine to Shepard, and on Water Street everything looks like business. The country stores are likewise filling up.

☞ It is reported that several young gentlemen in our City are endeavoring to calculate the cost of keeping house. No use. The only proper way is to give it a practical demonstration. Then, gentlemen, you will "know how it is yourselves."

☞ The farmers in this locality are beginning to realize for their cotton, and it is bringing them a fair and paying price. Last year, in the seed, it only brought from 2 to 2½ cents. This year it demands from 4 to 5 cents. At present prices cotton raising is profitable.

☞ Any lady, desiring about the nicest Fruit Picture published, can see it by calling at our office, and can get it by subscribing herself, or getting some one else to do so, to our paper and to Our Five Sons, the price of both papers only Three Dollars. The Fruit Cartons alone are worth twice the money.

☞ We are glad to learn that J. M. BEARD, formerly of the YARMOUTH House, Raleigh, has taken charge of the Ocean House at Portsmouth, Va. No man has a higher reputation as to knowing "how to keep a Hotel." We advise all our friends to give him a call. See his card in our advertising columns.

☞ A correspondent of the Raleigh Evangelist suggests the name of our popular Representative and townsman Hon. C. L. Conn as our next standard bearer for Governor. His name was first named for that position in these columns. He is well known throughout the State and his course in Congress has been such as to make him strong with the people.

☞ We are an excessively modest man—so much so that we can scarcely ever "screw our courage" up to dunning a delinquent. We beg of those indebted to us, either for subscription, advertising or job work, to have respect for our feelings and save us the mortification of being obliged to ask them personally for the amounts they owe us.

☞ The Jury to condemn and assess damages on the property on Fearing Street to widen the side walks of the same, met and performed the duty assigned them on Monday. The following named gentlemen constituted the Jury: R. F. Overman, Geo. W. Bell, Thos. B. Garner, C. R. Trudblood, Dr. J. N. Butt, Dr. W. H. Fuller, C. C. Green, Griffin Pritchard, C. W. Smith, M. B. Culpepper, John A. Raper and Jabez Pritchard. They will report to the town Commissioners.

☞ During the late canvass "Our Senator," in several speeches, denied the existence of the KuKlux. We suppose that he will admit now that he was mistaken, as Democratic politicians so generally are. We hope that he will not fail to read the letter of the Democratic lawyers to Judge Boyd, published in another column. The correspondence is rather interesting at this time, and is an important addition to Democratic history in North Carolina.

☞ The great fire in Chicago is an argument against building up any large portion of a City with wooden buildings. The terrible conflagration began its ravages in a section where the upsetting of a Kerosene lamp was sufficient to wrap whole streets in flames. The wooden buildings, huddled together, were dry as tinder—in a dry condition, when fanned by a brisk gale, to make an unmanageable fire. When once started, brick, stone, and iron gave way to the most terrible fiery ruin that history recounts! What a lesson for our City—for any City. Do not put up wooden buildings on any of the public streets.

☞ The "Land and Lumber Company" have made important changes and extensive improvements in their store, separating each special department into a large and separate room. Theirs is the largest and most extensive wholesale and retail mercantile establishment in Eastern Carolina, probably none so extensive in the State. Their Dry Goods and general sales room is on the ground floor, extending from Water Street 80 feet back to their large Wharf on the river bank. Their Ware Rooms and Grain and Flour department is on the same floor adjoining and, extending the same depth. The first floor in the second story has been neatly fitted up for their Clothing and Carpet department. It is a very large room and is very convenient. The next room, on same floor, is appropriated to their Stove and Tin Ware business. They have removed their Furniture department over to their large building on the opposite side of Water Street. All these several departments have just been filled up with a large, full and superior quality of goods. The great and increasing business of this Company made these changes and improvements a necessity.

☞ J. C. PERRY has just left at our office a sweet Potato which weighs seven pounds. After taking off his crop of peas he planted the ground with the Hayman variety of sweet Potato, and the sample we now have is one of the product.

☞ One may insert a thousand excellent things in a newspaper and never hear a word of them from its readers. But let a line or two not suited to their tastes creep in, even by accident, and one hears of it from every quarter. Our rule has always been to try to do our duty, as we understand it, regardless of consequences.

☞ "Student" wants to know what is meant by the term "The Land O'Cakes?" It is a name sometimes given to Scotland, because Oat meal cakes are a common national dish, particularly among the poorer classes. Says Blackwood:

"The lady loves, and admires, and worships everything Scottish, the gentleman looks down on the Land of Cakes like a superior intelligence."

☞ The United States Circuit Court opened at this City on Monday, his Honor Judge Brooks presiding. As the Marshal and the Jurors from the other side of the Sound had not arrived there was but little business transacted the first day. On Tuesday the Grand Jurors were empannelled and a lengthy and very able Charge delivered to them by his Honor. As this Charge is an important document, especially so at this time,—being one in which the pernicious heresy of independent State Sovereignity is disposed of and the authority and power to enact and enforce the recent Amendments to the Constitution are clearly shown, we will lay it before our readers in our next issue. Hon. THOMAS C. HUMPHRIES, of Currituck, was appointed Foreman of the Grand Jury. The cases of the Government against JOHN A. WOODWARD, of Edenton, and JEREMIAH SAWYER, of Elizabeth City, were settled by the defendants paying the charges and costs. There were prosecutions for violations of the Internal Revenue laws. We go to press too early to give any synopsis of the cases this week. The following are the names of the Jurors summoned:

From Pasquotank: Charles C. Price, Thos. A. Sykes, C. B. Brothers, W. B. Pritchard, Hugh Cale, O. C. Horton, B. F. Keaton, Robert Boo.

Camden: Isaac Morisett, John B. Beaford, Thomas Palmer, Wm. Dosier, Henry C. Lamb, Jos. A. Spencer.

Camden: John H. Garrett, B. F. White, James O. Cheshire, D. M. Lee, Moses Hobbs.

Currituck: Thos C. Humphries, Joseph Grandy.

LOCAL FORT-FOLIO.

Suffering from the "blues"—our Democratic friends since hearing the late election returns. A sure way to turn people's heads—go late to church. Went to bed in the dark—the man who "couldn't find his match." Modern Knights of the Golden Fleece—the New York Tammanyites. Now kept busy—those of our Merchants who advertise. How to treat a man of doubtful credit—take no note of him. Bad glasses for the eyes—liquor glasses. Exceedingly scarce—local news. Bought by the yard and worn by the foot—carpets. A social glass to which ladies are addicted—the mirror. Sure and read—our "business locals." The best bus—kissing a pretty girl. Best rebus—kissing her the second time. But a terrible Blunder bus—kissing the wrong girl. This closes—our Port Folio this week.

Business Locals.

We know that for cleaning paint, windows, china and glassware; for polishing knives, tin, iron, brass and copper wares, and for removing stains from marble and procelain, and rust from machinery, Enoch Morgan's Sons' Sapolio is the best thing in use. For Sale at the Drug Store of Dr. D. T. Krebs & Co. 15—5t.

MEAT MARKET.—The subscriber would announce to his friends and the public, that he will after the 13th of Oct., 1871, open a meat market on Road Street, at the stand lately occupied by L. G. Parsons. A supply of Fresh Meats of all kinds will be constantly kept on hand. Market open at all hours.

Delivery wagon will visit all parts of the town every morning. John G. Sawyer. 16—2t.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES!—It goes far in buying pure Drugs, Oils, Paints, Glasses, Patent Medicines, Papor Pens, Envelopes, &c., also Toilet Soap, the celebrated "Cold Water Soap," and a variety of articles of use and fancy at the Drug Emporium of Dr. D. T. Krebs & Co. Corner of Main and Road Sts.

If you want a good Hair restorative and Color restorer, go to Dr. D. T. Krebs & Co's. "Drug Emporium" and ask for Hall's. Plice only 75 cents a bottle.

The Ladies of the colored Methodist Church will prepare a Supper in their Academy Building, on Tuesday evening next, Oct.. 24th. Price 50 cents. The proceeds for the benefit of the Church.

A brisk business is being done by Lowenberg & Jacob, 35 Market Square, Norfolk, Va. Our popular friend A. E. Jacobs, of Nag's Head fame, is one of the partners of the house.

It is said that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters. 18—4t.

DEATHS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TRUST WHAT TIME HAS SANCTIONED.—The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity, may in some cases, be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport, is worthy of credence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the world, innumerable preparations intended to compete with it, have gone up like rockets, and come down in the extinguished sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—always upward and onward like the eagle's flight. Its introduction produces a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that cannot go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in christendom, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility, and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to cajole the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers."

NOTICE IN BANKRUPTCY.

District Court of the United States, For the Albemarle District. } In Bankruptcy.

In the matter of J. L. Knight, a Bankrupt

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVE, That a petition has been filed in said court by J. L. Knight of Martin county, and State of North Carolina, in said district, duly declared a bankrupt under the act of Congress of March 2d, 1867, for a discharge and certificate thereof from all his debts and other claims provable under said act, and that the 21st day of Oct. 1871, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the office of T. W. Costen, Register in Bankruptcy, in Elizabath City, N. C., is assigned for the hearing of the same, when and where all creditors, who have proved their debts, and other persons in interest may attend and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted; and that the second meeting will be held at the same time and place

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Farmer's Clubs.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian.

Through the medium of your excellent paper, I would suggest to my brother farmers the importance of farming clubs for mutual information, co-operation and protection:

The long evenings that are now coming upon us cannot be better employed by us farmers, than by meeting together exchanging experiences comparing notes of our different modes of farming, and by so doing we shall gain much valuable information and encouragement and be better prepared for the next years operations.

By Mutual Information, I mean that every person that works on a farm, can impart information that will be useful to many, if proper steps are taken to elicit it. It is a pleasure to impart information that will do good, as much so as it is a pleasure to receive; It is a duty we owe to one another, to impart whatever will add to the welfare. or happiness of the community.

By Co-operation we can destroy all noxious weeds and insects, introduce new and untried farming implements and machinery, seeds of all kinds, animals, fruits and flowers, also by concert of action can command transportation for our crops wherever it is desirable and at much more reasonable rates to ourselves. We can do more towards fixing equitable prices for our produce.

By Protection is meant that we should combine to protect ourselves from all combinations or interests that prey upon us, whether merchants who by combining make us pay their price for what we purchase of them and take our produce at what they offer, or the middlemen who have our grain and receive the lions share of the profits, or other combinations that take advantage of our want of concert and make us pay so dearly for it.

All other interests are combining or have already combined for protection and it is high time that the farmers were doing the same thing. If we do not we we shall be the prey of all other interests, then we shall see that our profits now small, growing smaller until we can no longer live at the business.

Farmers arouse! Look to your interests; do not sleep until you are thus reduced. Organize Associations, Societies or Clubs, in every school district, have a Central Club at the County seat and work together in all general movements. This is the age of steam and organization, we must be up and doing or we shall be more behind the times than we now are. I would suggest the following:

Method of organizing and conducting farmers Club because of its simplicity and effectiveness. When six or eight have assembled, let one of their number be chosen Chairman and a good pensman for Secretary for the evening. The Secretary be required to embody in the minutes all information of value elicited during the evening in a book provided for the purpose.

Any member may ask for information, which question ought to be put in writing, then read by the chairman, and the chairman may ask each member separately if he can give any light upon the subject calling them by name in a familiar manner, so as not to embarrass those not accustomed to speaking publickly. It is best to require speakers to rise but may be deviated from at pleasure of the meeting. Only one to speak at a time, and not to take form of debate; but by members asking questions and having them answered to elicit information only. The member asked for information, should be the only one allowed to speak at the time, but all should have a chance to add. their mite.

Other officers may be appointed as desired, or needed. Experience has shown that the expenses are best defrayed by voluntary subscription, they may be very light or considerable at option of members, or the magnitude of its operations, extent of its teritory, or complexity of its organization. Meetings ought to be as often as once a week during the long nights, and once or twice a month during summer.

Farmers! What say you? Shall we not organize? Let us have an enterchange of ideas upon the subject.

Heavy Manuring—Large Crops.

A correspondent of the Massachusetts Ploughman in some very judicious remarks upon the necessity of raising large crops, says it is a question of much magnitude with every farmer as to how much manure he can afford to use to the acre. He can not afford to raise small crops, for in so doing he wastes his manure and labor also. It is found true that the man who manures very liberally is the man who succeeds in making money by farming; and that he who furnishes insufficient food for his crops is in a fair way to be short fed himself.

Every prudent farmer will give this subject much consideration, especially if he takes the above view of it, and regards "manure as the mother of the meal chest," as the Scotch saying has it. We may consider it as heavy manuring when we have done so to the best of our capacity in order to secure the best results for our outlay.

When we take into consideration the high cost of labor, and the inadequate return the farmer obtains for the products of that labor, every reflecting man must see that he cannot afford to employ labor unless he can in some way secure a supply of manure sufficiently large to ensure what is usually termed large crops. These and these only will pay his labor.

It costs as much to cultivate a small crop of corn, aside from the cost of difference in the quantity of manure used, as it does to cultivate a large one,

LIST OF PEACHES.—A Maryland correspondent wishes a good selection of peaches for a succession. He does not restrict us to any number of varieties. The following list of six sorts is given in Fulton's excellent little work on Peach Culture:

White.	Yellow.
Hale's Early,	Crawford's Early,
Old Mixen Free,	Reeve's Favorite,
Stump the World.	Crawford's Late.

For a list of twelve, he adds to the list of white sorts, Serrate Early York, Large Early York, Moore's Favorite Red Rareripe, Ward's Late, and Yellow Rareripe to the yellow ones. There are some others which are nearly or quite as valuable, and which some would probably prefer in certain cases—such as Morris White Nivette, Troth's Early, Grosse Mignonne, &c. These include nearly all the sorts which have a wide reputation in the Middle States, and most of them succeed well at the North.—Country Gentlemen.

About a year ago New-England was suffering from a drouth. This year Illinois is similarly afflicted, and to such an extent that plowing is impossible. These dry seasons are, for the most part, attributable to the destruction of timber, and close observers in Illinois say that the disappearance of even the meager amount of forest-growths which some localities have known has had a perceptible effect on the annual rain-fall.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing. farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses. all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church. school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will bank from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next, balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, bindes it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Front-ing and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY'S COLUMN.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY

OF

NORTH CAROLINA.

Incorporated by the Legislature of North Carolina, December 17, 1868.

CAPITAL STOCK - - - - $300,000,00.

General Office: Elizabeth City, N. C.

OFFICERS

J. M. WEED, President. C. W. SMITH, Treasurer.
C. H. ROBINSON, Secretary.

DIRECTORS

J. M. WEED, WM. UNDERWOOD, CHARLES W. SMITH,
N. R. ZIMMERMAN AND G. B. THOMPSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front, permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170, 172, 175, 178, 180, 182, 185, 187, 190, 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268, 271, 283, 285, 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front, and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultivated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water trausportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

☞ The most direct and cheapest route is to go to Baltimore by N. C. R. R., then Bay Line steamer to, Norfolk, Va., then steamer to, Elizabeth City, N. C.

DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT

Has made the most astonishing cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful medicine, that

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphili, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Theum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh. Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges. Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are witbin the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastess, and repairs the same with new material made from bealthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin-diseases; but it is the only positive cure for KIDNEY & BLADDER COMPLAINTS, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinuence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust, deposits, and when there is a prickling, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

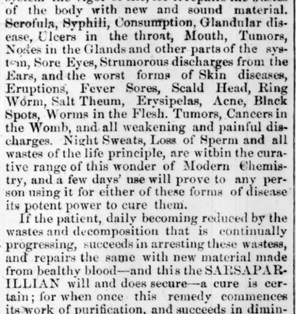
VINEGAR BITTERS



J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen'l Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 & 34 Commerce St., N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in removing Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters
